

many of them by the hand and thanked them for their loyalty to the city.

"Stick to your jobs, men," said the Mayor to the sweepers, "and the city will stick by you."

The strike is already won, according to the views of George W. Prescott, Secretary of the International Teamsters' Union.

"The city is about ready to quit," Prescott announced at about the same time the Mayor declared that the strike was won. "The city is about ready to quit," Prescott announced at about the same time the Mayor declared that the strike was won.

The strike is already won, according to the views of George W. Prescott, Secretary of the International Teamsters' Union.

"The city is about ready to quit," Prescott announced at about the same time the Mayor declared that the strike was won.

WILLETT CHARGES REPUBLICANS WITH JUDGESHIP CRIME

Declares Testimony Brought Out Shows Money Affected
Benedict's Nomination.

VAN SICLEN SUMMONED.

Will Be Asked About a Talk
Over Phone Concerning a
Bid of $15,000.

ONLY 701 RECRUITS AVAILABLE FOR THE WORK.

Of the 5,000 strike breakers promised to Commissioner Edwards four days ago only 701 recruits were counted to-day and it was feared that more than one hundred of these would desert before the close of the day. From the civil service lists the department has obtained only 144 recruits from an eligible list of 2,000 men.

From some of the downtown stables as many carts were sent out during the morning than were out Saturday yesterday, yet the conditions are such that there would be widespread complaint had not the temperature suddenly dropped below freezing.

Health Commissioner Lederle has no intention of interfering with Commissioner Edwards in his methods of breaking the strike. Mr. Lederle said to-day: "At an opportune time, but even had it remained warm I would not consider the time had arrived for me to interfere. I do not see how I could do anything that is not now being done by Commissioner Edwards."

The cold weather has indeed arrived at an opportune time, but even had it remained warm I would not consider the time had arrived for me to interfere. I do not see how I could do anything that is not now being done by Commissioner Edwards.

William Willett Jr. charged to-day that the investigation of his nomination for Supreme Court Justice had developed evidence of only one crime and the alleged crime involved leaders of the Brooklyn Republican organization. He charged that the testimony of Robert Stewart, a defeated candidate for the Fusion nomination, on the stand to-day, showed that money was used to effect the nomination of Russell Benedict and the withdrawal of Stewart's name.

The alleged deal involved Alexander M. White, William M. Calder, F. J. H. Kracke and other Republican leaders in Kings County. Mr. Willett's charge follows:

"The only direct evidence of crime we have here is that Mr. White said he wouldn't give any money unless Benedict was put on the ticket. Stewart was taken off and Benedict was put on. Now much did White give and where did he get it?"

Stewart also told of a conversation he had with John H. McCooey a year ago. Stewart quoted McCooey as saying at that time:

"We may have to adopt the Manhattan method over here. Over there they charge from $10,000 to $40,000 for a nomination, but we don't do such things here."

QUINN ALONE SUGGESTED THE
INDORSEMENT OF WILLETT.

In the testimony brought out to-day it was shown that the endorsement of Willett by the Independence League was solely at the suggestion of Sheriff Quinn of Queens County.

The investigation by Justice Scudder was adjourned until next Monday. It is probable that unless Monday's inquiry develops a new line of inquiry the day will end the investigation. Then Justice Scudder, if he finds that there is probable cause, may issue a warrant for the arrest of various persons. If the Court finds to the contrary, the Grand Jury may take up the case. Justice Scudder may send the records to the Grand Jury without any recommendation.

Willett and his counsel said in effect that they counted arrest, because such a course would enable them to take a full hand in the fight.

Justice-elect James H. Van Siclen is under subpoena, but did not answer to his name to-day. He will be called on Monday, and if he testifies according to schedule his remarks will bring a new sensation to the case.

Mr. Van Siclen was asked to tell about the negotiations before Mr. Hart's Independence League named its faith to the candidacy of his unsuccessful rival, Mr. Willett. And this is the story that the politicians say, can come from the Van Siclen camp:

Shortly before the Willett nomination, a telephone conversation was held between the two men high up in the Independence League and the Van Siclen headquarters. It included this interesting passage:

"This matter has got beyond the question of friendship. It is a matter of dollars and cents. Willett's people offer $15,000 for the endorsement of the League."

The purpose of calling Mr. Van Siclen was to find out if he had been at one end of the telephone, and if so, who was at the other end and what reply was made. The man who did the talking for the Independence League is named in general rumors and the character of the talk is a matter of common report.

For a second item, a detective has located in Jersey City a safety deposit vault wherein are supposed to lie the crown jewels of Boss Joseph Casady, overlord of all which lie in the county of Queens. In this strong box, says the reporter of the day, is a war fund of goodly proportions in which bills of $1,000 denomination nestle together.

The mere having of a strong box is no offense, nor is it criminal to possess wealth except in collusion with the Sheriffman law, and it was therefore a matter of interesting speculation how the prosecution hoped to profit by the fact that Casady maintained a non-resident "hold-out" against the coming of the war to his long island door.

CLERK IN WILLETT HEADQUARTERS FIRST WITNESS OF DAY.

Maurice M. Geronimo, a clerk in the office of the Borough of Queens, opened the day's testimony. He said that he took a two week's leave of absence to take charge of the clerical work of the Willett headquarters at Jamaica. It is charged that Geronimo was the man who got Thomas W. Quinn, Sheriff and leader of the Independence League, to meet Willett and advise him in connection with the coming of the war to his long island door.

"For what purpose did you have expenses at your headquarters?" asked Mr. De Ford.

"For stamps, for automobile hire, for printing and newspaper advertising. We paid some money for stenographers," said the witness.

Q. What was your largest expense?
A. About $25.
Q. Did you see Mr. Willett on Sept. 27?
A. I don't remember.
Q. Did Mr. Willett ever tell you he

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
Take LAXATIVE BROWN Quinine Tablets
BROWN'S signature is on each box.

Police Guarding the Strike Breakers; Man Caught in Act of Throwing Stone

CARTS LEAVING BARN

paid anything for the nomination? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know that he paid any money to Louis T. Walter? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you meet Sheriff Quinn near Evergreen Cemetery and speak to him with reference to Mr. Willett's candidacy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. State what that conversation was.

A. I telephoned to Mr. Quinn's office and made an appointment with him for the Saturday morning following the Democratic convention. I asked Mr. Quinn if the League could not endorse Mr. Willett. Mr. Quinn said to me: "Why should the League endorse him?"

I said: "The Fusion with the Republican Judiciary has fallen through and another reason is I feel that Mr. Willett is the most logical candidate to be endorsed by the League on account of his record in Congress."

"I told him," added the witness, "that Mr. Willett had stood alone with Mr. Sulzer in his fight on the rules in the House of Representatives, and for that reason he was a successful lawyer and stood well at the bar, the League had more reason to endorse him than any body else. Mr. Quinn said that he did not know anything about Willett's political affiliations. He suggested that he had business around the Evergreen Cemetery and would be glad to meet Mr. Willett. I telephoned Mr. Willett to meet him at Tromp's Brewery and they met."

Q. Were you present at this conference? A. I was and I was not.

DENISE HAVING ANY TALK ABOUT PAYING ANY MONEY.

Explaining the answer, the witness said he only heard Quinn say he would go downtown and suggest Willett's name to the Independence League, but didn't hear the other conversation. He denied that any suggestion of payment in the form of campaign contribution or otherwise was made.

Joseph P. Doyle of Far Rockaway said that he never had any such conversation as an Alderman Brady had testified took place, during which Doyle, according to Brady, said Willett had paid $10,000 for his nomination.

Mr. De Ford told Justice Scudder he wanted to examine Louis T. Walter, Halstead Frost and Marinus Willett, and asked for an adjournment until next Monday. The Court ordered the adjournment.

Then it was suggested to Mr. De Ford that he had overlooked Mr. Van Siclen. He said he would call Van Siclen. When District Attorney Whitman and his assistant, Mr. De Ford, returned from Long Island they went at once to Judge Rosovsky's chambers in the Criminal Courts Building and had a conference with him. It was understood that as a result of the conference the present Grand Jury will be asked to look into certain phases of the Willett nomination which are said to come under the jurisdiction of the courts of this county.

CLEANERS START RUNAWAY.

Mounted Police Guard Chases Team and Stops It.

Mounted Policeman Lenihan of Traffic squad C, escorting a company of street-cleaning strike breakers at Mornick avenue and West One Hundred and Twenty-second street, saw a team drawing an Adams Express wagon scudged running away by the noise and dust kicked up by the sweepers.

He chased the team east across Eighth avenue, where a number of school children narrowly escaped being struck, and at Seventh avenue crowded the off horse so it fell and checked the other. The wagon was stopped without injury to the driver, John J. McNeil, of No. 161 West Fifty-ninth street.

ARCHITECT REED DEAD.

Successors to Heart Failure Early To-Day.

Charles A. Reed of the firm of Reed and Stern, architects, in charge of the new New York Central terminal, died of heart failure at his home early to-day. Mr. Reed was one of the most prominent architects in this country. His firm designed most of the big stations recently erected by the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, New York Central and Chicago and Great Western Railroads.

Mr. Reed was born in Avon, N. Y., fifty-four years ago. In 1882 he established an office in St. Paul, Minn., where he remained until 1891, when he was called here to take charge of the New York Central terminal. He was a bachelor.

HANSEN'S VERSION OF THE IN-
DORSEMENT OF WILLETT.

"Quinn came in," Hansen testified, "and said: 'It is all off with Van Siclen. I have learned that he does not need me, and that he has arranged for his nomination through Judge Seabury in New York.' Thereupon it was decided that if that was the case, it was all off with the committee. Quinn said that 'Quinn had to be represented, and suggested the name of Mr. Willett. I said: 'That makes two Democratic representatives on our ticket, and it will look like we are showing favoritism over the defeat of Mr. Stewart.' Finally Mr. Quinn's idea prevailed and we named Mr. Willett."

He denied any knowledge of any financial matter in connection with the deal, leaving the nomination "up to Sheriff Quinn."

Michael Patrick McNamara of Far Rockaway denied having any knowledge of the payment of money for the Willett nomination. He was one of those with Casady and Walter, at Walter's dinner party at the Waldorf, after the

CAUGHT THROWING A STONE

stock selling business prospered on Sept. 30.

Joseph P. Doyle of Far Rockaway said that he never had any such conversation as an Alderman Brady had testified took place, during which Doyle, according to Brady, said Willett had paid $10,000 for his nomination.

Mr. De Ford told Justice Scudder he wanted to examine Louis T. Walter, Halstead Frost and Marinus Willett, and asked for an adjournment until next Monday. The Court ordered the adjournment.

Then it was suggested to Mr. De Ford that he had overlooked Mr. Van Siclen. He said he would call Van Siclen. When District Attorney Whitman and his assistant, Mr. De Ford, returned from Long Island they went at once to Judge Rosovsky's chambers in the Criminal Courts Building and had a conference with him. It was understood that as a result of the conference the present Grand Jury will be asked to look into certain phases of the Willett nomination which are said to come under the jurisdiction of the courts of this county.

CLEANERS START RUNAWAY.

Mounted Police Guard Chases Team and Stops It.

Mounted Policeman Lenihan of Traffic squad C, escorting a company of street-cleaning strike breakers at Mornick avenue and West One Hundred and Twenty-second street, saw a team drawing an Adams Express wagon scudged running away by the noise and dust kicked up by the sweepers.

He chased the team east across Eighth avenue, where a number of school children narrowly escaped being struck, and at Seventh avenue crowded the off horse so it fell and checked the other. The wagon was stopped without injury to the driver, John J. McNeil, of No. 161 West Fifty-ninth street.

ARCHITECT REED DEAD.

Successors to Heart Failure Early To-Day.

Charles A. Reed of the firm of Reed and Stern, architects, in charge of the new New York Central terminal, died of heart failure at his home early to-day. Mr. Reed was one of the most prominent architects in this country. His firm designed most of the big stations recently erected by the Northern Pacific, Great Northern, New York Central and Chicago and Great Western Railroads.

Mr. Reed was born in Avon, N. Y., fifty-four years ago. In 1882 he established an office in St. Paul, Minn., where he remained until 1891, when he was called here to take charge of the New York Central terminal. He was a bachelor.

HANSEN'S VERSION OF THE IN-
DORSEMENT OF WILLETT.

"Quinn came in," Hansen testified, "and said: 'It is all off with Van Siclen. I have learned that he does not need me, and that he has arranged for his nomination through Judge Seabury in New York.' Thereupon it was decided that if that was the case, it was all off with the committee. Quinn said that 'Quinn had to be represented, and suggested the name of Mr. Willett. I said: 'That makes two Democratic representatives on our ticket, and it will look like we are showing favoritism over the defeat of Mr. Stewart.' Finally Mr. Quinn's idea prevailed and we named Mr. Willett."

He denied any knowledge of any financial matter in connection with the deal, leaving the nomination "up to Sheriff Quinn."

Michael Patrick McNamara of Far Rockaway denied having any knowledge of the payment of money for the Willett nomination. He was one of those with Casady and Walter, at Walter's dinner party at the Waldorf, after the

SHIPS WRECKED, MANY DROWNED IN BITING GALE

Captain, Mate, Steward and a Seaman Swept From Schooner Witch Hazel.

CROWD SEES BOAT SINK.

Crew of Edith E. Dennis and a Woman Drowned After Leaving Schooner.

By wireless and the telegraph reports poured into shipping men in this city to-day of lives lost and ships wrecked or in distress because of the slowly twisting gale which has been blowing up tremendous seas and constantly increasing in the fierceness of its blasts since late Saturday night.

The worst wreck so far reported is that of the schooner Witch Hazel, from Port Reading for Provincetown, Mass., which hit the rocks of the west breakwater of New Haven Harbor and sank in the terrific seas which were rolling up the Sound. Capt. Britt of Calais, Me., Mate Ole Johnson of Stockholm, Norway, Steward Andrew Miller of Jorgens Mines, N. S., Seaman Thomas Masten of St. John, N. B., were swept overboard and drowned.

Joseph Miller and Benjamin Miller, seamen, and sons of the steward, were in the rigging when the crash came. They worked up to the mast and lashed themselves fast. They were numb and almost unconscious when rescued by Capt. Smith of the schooner Willens Gertrude and taken off the ship at daybreak to-day.

At Plum Gut at the east end of the Sound, the narrow channel from the Sound into Gardiner's Bay through which the tide always rushes like a mill race, the two-masted schooner, Edith E. Dennis, from New Bedford to Greenport, was swept into the treacherous swirl by the wind and smashed against the rocks. She did not sink at once, but persons along the shore think she must have started a leak.

DORY WITH CREW AND WOMEN
ABOARD IS OVERTURNED.

A few minutes later the crew and a woman and child were seen to start away from her in an open boat. The howling gale was making breakers out of every swell and the dory was overturned a hundred yards from Port Terry. Soldiers were lined along the shore to watch for the bodies of the drowned to be swept ashore, and a six-inch searchlight was kept playing on the water.

After 10 o'clock this morning the captain, who had tied himself to a log, was washed up on the beach. He was not dead, but unconscious, and it was thought he might not survive the night's exposure, but he was revived. He said his wife and child and two of the crew had been drowned.

No trace was found up to late to-day of the barge Searport, which broke away from the tug Underwriter, which was towing her, off Fire Island Light in the gale yesterday afternoon. The first wireless reports of the troubles of the barge came from the seaman Howard, from Norfolk to Boston, and said that the Searport was adrift with fourteen men in mountainous seas. To-day the Underwriter put into the shelter of New York Bay with the other barge of her tow, the Boston, and it was learned that only four men were on the Searport.

On learning that the revenue cutter Mohawk, the anchorage patrol of this harbor, had gone out to look for the missing barge the Underwriter left the Boston at anchor off Liberty Island and headed out to sea again to help in the search.

There was some confusion to-day regarding the action of the Howard. Under the direction of Capt. H. S. Chase

WANTS FLORENCE BURNS TO HAVE ANOTHER TRIAL.

Father Applies for a Habeas Corpus for Daughter Now in Jail.

Fred Burns, father of Florence Burns Wildrick, to-day applied to Justice Stapleton in the Brooklyn Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus commanding the warden of the woman's prison at Auburn to produce his daughter in court. It is the contention of Robert H. Roy, attorney for Burns, that the woman was illegally convicted of conducting a badger game some three years ago as a result of which she was sentenced to serve from seven and a half to fifteen years in prison. Roy says she should have been tried for committing a misdemeanor.

MORAN-DRISCOLL BOUT
STOPPED IN ENGLAND.

Unless Appeal Is Won Fighting Game Will Be Dead in That Country.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Nov. 13.—The Moran-Driscoll fight, scheduled here for Dec. 16, was enjoined by the Birmingham courts to-day. The promoters have appealed.

If the appeal fails, the fighting game in England will be dead.

Mate Hendrick of the Howard put over a lifeboat and made a gallant effort to reach the Searport. The lifeboat was nearly swamped twice and Hendrick soon saw that the little craft would be smashed to splinters against the side of the barge if it ever reached her. He returned to his ship.

A despatch from Boston says the Howard arrived there to-day. Her captain said that the water suffered grievous damage for several hours he left for this port upon being informed that the Mohawk was proceeding toward the Searport.

SCHOONER WITCHINGTON SIGHTED WITH SAILS BLOWN AWAY.

The steamer Vigilance of the Ward Line came in to-day and reported at Quarantine that she had sighted the schooner Henry Withington with her sails all blown away and about ten miles south of the Scotland Lightship. She was not flying distress signals.

A schooner loaded with grain sank off Huntington Harbor while trying to beat her way into shelter at about 1 o'clock A. M. It was impossible to do anything for her until daylight. Then only her masts were visible above the breakers. E. H. Garrison went out with a power-boat and cruised about the entrance of the harbor for an hour or more without finding any trace of the crew. Meanwhile many bags of grain came ashore.

Yachts, power boats and dories which careless owners had put off putting out of the water suffered grievous damage in all the waters about the city. Most of them at anchor even in the protected coves of small bays were swamped. The deep sea fishing fleet sailing from Canarsie, Sheepshead and Gravesend Haul, which usually stays out until late in the afternoon, took one good snuff of the coming gale and one look at the towering seas and started skittering for home before noon. Some captains turned about and went home without allowing their patrons to drop a line and gave "return checks."

Others more mercenary gave their patrons a seashore hour at anchor with a little chance fishing and called it a day's work. At all the piers until late last night were frightened crowds waiting for the incoming boats, many of which had put into strange landings in the emergency.

YACHTS DASHED ASHORE AND AGAINST BRIDGE.

The gale damaged more than a dozen yachts and smaller craft off City Island. A score or more of the hundred pleasure craft were swept from their moorings and many were damaged by being dashed ashore or against the City Island Bridge.

It became necessary to open the draw to let several of the larger yachts that had been driven against the bridge pass through, and at one time more than 500 persons in street cars, automobiles and other conveyances were held up while the bridge opened to save the vessels.

Enjoy and Digest
your food as never before with
Delicious & Piquant
WAW-WAW
Sauce

With soups, salads, meats and fish absolutely unexcelled.

St. James Importing Co., (Importers)
New York City.

ROYAL
FURNITURE CO.
FURNITURE FOR CATALOGUE
HOMES FURNISHED COMPLETE
3 ROOMS AT $49.
4 " $75.
5 " $99.
CREDIT
TERMS
$3 DOWN ON $50.
$5 DOWN ON $75.
$7 DOWN ON $100.
OPEN EVENINGS
2188 3RD AVE. 119th ST.
2190 3RD AVE. 120th ST.

MONARCH
FURNITURE CO.
WE TRUST YOU
FURNITURE
Kugs, Carpets, Bedding
$3.00 Down On $50
5.00 Down On 75
7.50 Down On 100
Larger Amounts in Proportion
We Pay for Old and Broken Furniture

161 EAST 125 ST
BET 3 & LEXAVES
OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

WISSNER
Player
Pianos
Tone Quality Unequalled.
Superior to All Others.

Send for Catalogue and Prices.
WISSNER WAREHOUSES:
88 5th Ave., cor. 15th St., N. Y.
55-57 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn.

Why Starve?

While thousands succumb to hunger in China, India and other Oriental countries every year, many are starving themselves for the lack of proper food right here in big New York.

Poorly prepared meals are not properly assimilated and the faded brain and the emaciated body tell the sad story.

"Boarders
Wanted"
advertisements in The World show many homelike places where one may go and "Dine like a king or queen."

Why not heed this fact and find a boarding-place without delay where Health and Happiness prevail?

Look To-Day

Platt's Chlorides

The Odorless
Disinfectant
Prevents Disease

Don't miss THIS WEEK'S special economy offer.

Rugs (9x12)
BEST ROYAL WILTONS, French grade quality; $55.00 regular price. This week..... $47.00
PURE WORSTED ROYAL WILTONS worth $37.50. Reduced, this week, to..... $26.50
AXMINSTERS, best quality. Actual value $27.50. This week..... $19.75
WILTON VELVETS, positively worth $18.00. Reduced, this week, to..... $13.00

Carpets
AXMINSTERS, handsome borders to match; new Fall designs. Valued at $1.10 yd. This week..... 85c
WILTON VELVETS, regularly
$1.00 yd. This week..... 80c
TAPESTRY BRUSSELS, 90c quality. This week..... 62½c

BIG REDUCTIONS in
Inlaid Linoleums and Oil Cloth

DOBSON'S
Makers of Carpets for Fifty Years
53 to 59 West 14th St.
Bet. 5th and 6th Ave.
Near "L" Subway and Madison Tunnels

Eddys
Old English
Sauce
The right relish to have in the house all the time. It makes good things
taste better.
10c
Made by E. Pritchard, 331 Spring St., N. Y.

Enjoy and Digest
your food as never before with
Delicious & Piquant
WAW-WAW
Sauce

With soups, salads, meats and
fish absolutely unexcelled.

St. James Importing Co., (Importers)
New York City.

ROYAL
FURNITURE CO.
FURNITURE FOR CATALOGUE
HOMES FURNISHED COMPLETE
3 ROOMS AT $49.
4 " $75.
5 " $99.
CREDIT
TERMS
$3 DOWN ON $50.
$5 DOWN ON $75.
$7 DOWN ON $100.
OPEN EVENINGS
2188 3RD AVE. 119th ST.
2190 3RD AVE. 120th ST.

MONARCH
FURNITURE CO.
WE TRUST YOU
FURNITURE
Kugs, Carpets, Bedding
$3.00 Down On $50
5.00 Down On 75
7.50 Down On 100
Larger Amounts in Proportion
We Pay for Old and Broken Furniture

161 EAST 125 ST
BET 3 & LEXAVES
OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

WISSNER
Player
Pianos
Tone Quality Unequalled.
Superior to All Others.

Send for Catalogue and Prices.
WISSNER WAREHOUSES:
88 5th Ave., cor. 15th St., N. Y.
55-57 Flatbush Ave., Brooklyn.

Why Starve?

While thousands succumb to hunger in China, India and other Oriental countries every year, many are starving themselves for the lack of proper food right here in big New York.

Poorly prepared meals are not properly assimilated and the faded brain and the emaciated body tell the sad story.

"Boarders
Wanted"
advertisements in The World show many homelike places where one may go and "Dine like a king or queen."

Why not heed this fact and find a boarding-place without delay where Health and Happiness prevail?

Look To-Day

many of them by the hand and thanked them for their loyalty to the city.

"Stick to your jobs, men," said the Mayor to the sweepers, "and the city will stick by you."

The strike is already won, according to the views of George W. Prescott, Secretary of the International Teamsters' Union.

"The city is about ready to quit," Prescott announced at about the same time the Mayor declared that the strike was won.

The strike is already won, according to the views of George W. Prescott, Secretary of the International Teamsters' Union.

"The city is about ready to quit," Prescott announced at about the same time the Mayor declared that the strike was won.

If you have not yet tried this coffee, this advertisement asks you to do so.
After trial you will always continue using the

White Rose

COFFEE

SEEMAN BROS. NEW YORK
Proprietors of WHITE ROSE® Ceylon Tea

PENNY A POUND PROFIT

Special for Monday, the 13th
CHOCOLATE SILVER
KISSES. POUND BOX 10c
COCAINATE
BRITLLE. POUND BOX 15c

Special for Tuesday, the 14th
KISSES. POUND BOX 10c
CHOCOLATE
ALMOND SOUVENIR. POUND BOX 19c

Park Row and Cortlandt street stores open every evening until 11 o'clock.
All our stores open Saturdays evening until 11 o'clock.

Milk Chocolate Covered
Mexican Kisses
Texas Pecan nuts, completely hid in a sweet centre of maple and confectioner's sugar, and an outer covering of our Premium Milk Chocolate enclosing all the deliciousness.

54 BARCLAY ST
206 BROADWAY
147 NASSAU ST
147 NASSAU ST

The specified weight in each instance includes the container.

Why not heed this fact and find a boarding-place without delay where Health and Happiness prevail?

Look To-Day